HPE Case Erector Bottom Sealer

When nonstop productivity is the order of the day, you can't do better than a MARQ. Our High Performance Case Erectors have been refined and perfected for over 35 years, and incorporate the features and capabilities that set the pace for the industry. MARQ has a wide variety of case erectors to fit your packaging needs. The HPE215 entry level Case Erector is the culmination of MARQ's years of experience and dedication to excellence. The HPE215 is simple in design and operation yet the HPE215 is MARQ's smallest case erector with an impressively large case range.

- Tape sealing only
- Anti-jam feature virtually eliminates case jams in the erecting station
- Can run RSC, HSC, POL and AFM cases
- All parts produced domestically and available locally

HPR Random Case Sealer

MARQ's High Performance Random Case Sealers quickly and automatically seal random case sizes. Yet these machines remain true to the MARQ ideal: simplicity of design and ease of maintenance. Case height pre-sensing helps reduce movement and increase speed. MARQ random case sealers are available in Compact, Standard, Medium and Large Frame models to accommodate virtually any application.

- Case-centering shafts sized to tolerances of less than 1/1000 in.
- Tape and or glue sealing available
- Heavy duty 3/16th" Welded steel frame
- Compact, Standard, Medium and Large Frame models
- Top, bottom or both top and bottom sealing available

HPT Trayformer

As warehouse stores continue to dictate what type of shipping container they will accept the MARQ HPT Trayformer is ready to meet their challenge. A MARQ Trayformer can handle side slotted, end slotted clamshell, design style, hooded and foldlock trays. When bundled with an HSC Ladder a MARQ trayformer is ready to meet the demands of the display type shipper trays. Save labor and corrugated with a MARQ HPT.

- 4" tubular steel frame
- Handwheel adjustable for quick, easy tray size changes
- Easy-to-load ergonomic ratchet feed hopper

HPV Case Vibrators

Here's the perfect machine for packers of volume filled or bagged products. This equipment incorporates vibration principles developed by the University of California, and MARQ has adapted the concept to a variety of industries. The vibration process eliminates any in-transit settling, allowing shippers to reduce case height by up to 2", resulting in corrugated savings of up to 10% and increasing the number of cases per pallet.

- Great for French fry & fresh potato industries: nut & bolt packaging: bagged and or frozen products, potting soil, powdered products, small plastic parts
- Available in top sealing and vibration only models
- Tape and or glue sealing available
